EXAMINER'S RESPONSE

1. In response to the application filed 10-9-98, the application has been examined. The examiner has considered the presentation of claims in view of the disclosure and the present state of the prior art. And it is the examiner's opinion that the claims are unpatentable for the reasons set forth in this Office action:

Specification

2. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: The references to related applications should be updated to include serial number and status such as abandoned, and the patent number if allowed.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102 & 103

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-2, 4-6, 7-10, 22, 27-28 and 30-33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Richardson (US 5459458).

Richardson discloses a two way paging system as claimed. In view of page 8 of applicant's specification, "call back" in the message of Fig. 7, or any paging message corresponds to a presence signal. See the entire document.

5. Claims 1-2, 4-6, 7-10, 19-24, 27-28, 30-33 and 38-41 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Will (US 5479408).

Will discloses a two way paging system as claimed. In view of page 8 of applicant's specification, the acknowledgments, responses, original messages, location tracking, or any paging message corresponds to a presence signal. See the entire document.

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 3, 23-24, 26 and 29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Richardson (US 5459458) or Will (US 5479408) as applied above and further in view of LaPorta (US 5959543) .

LaPorta discloses an analogous art two way paging system with group call message modification (abstract, col. 14) and it would have obvious to have included such in the Richardson or Will to provide a more advanced set of transaction services.

8. Claims 11, 14-16, 18 and 34-37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Richardson (US 5459458) or Will (US 5479408) as applied above and further in view of Segal (US 5644627) and Poland (US 5401947).

Segal discloses an analogous art two way paging system with indication by audible or voice message, visual LED or LCD, or tactile signal (cols. 4-5). Tactile is vibratory or haptic motion. Poland discloses an analogous art selective indicator with heated (thermochromic) liquid crystal ink markings printed on a display. It would have obvious to have included such indicators in the Richardson or Will to provide the user the convenience and flexibility of selecting from the various indicator modes and the heated LCD is suggested by Richardson indicating use of any well known visual display such as LCD in col. 7 and will showing LCD in col. 4A.

9. Claims 12-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Richardson (US 5459458) or Will (US 5479408) in view of Segal (US 5644627) and Poland (US 5401947).as applied above and further in view of Easterling (US 5651049).

Easterling discloses an analogous art paging system with a receivers embedded in objects such as stuffed animals and it would have been obvious to have included such in the combination applied above in order to relate the receiver to the corresponding user or message recipient.

10. Claim 17 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Richardson (US 5459458) or Will (US 5479408) in view of Segal (US 5644627) and Poland (US 5401947).as applied above and further in view of McLaughlin (US 4975694).

McLaughlin discloses an analogous art paging receiver with a multiple color LED or lamp indicator and it would have been obvious to have included such in the combination applied above in order to provide multiple indications with a single lamp.

11. Claims 15 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Richardson (US 5459458) or Will (US 5479408) in view of Segal (US 5644627) and Poland (US 5401947).as applied above and further in view of Park (US 5733131).

Park discloses an analogous art paging receiver with a mechanical control such as movement of the mouth of a stuffed animal (fig. 2) and telephone input to the paging system (fig. 1). It would have been obvious to have included such in the combination applied above in order to provide inexpensive educational and/or entertainment device.

12. Claim 25 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Richardson (US 5459458) or Will (US 5479408) as applied above in view of Shapira (US 5086394).

Shapira discloses an analogous art paging system with matched pairs and it would have been obvious to have included such match pairs in the combination applied above in order to provide introduction of users.

13. Claims 19-21 and 38-41 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Will (US 5479408) alone or in combination with Richardson (US 5459458).

Will discloses transceiver in figs. 4A-4C which is considered to be a picture frame because it holds a photo ID 46. This frame includes a touch sensitive switch or key 48. A relay station is shown in figs. 6A-6C and 8A-8B to include a picture frame discussed on pages 11-12, and if it is not clear that the transceiver is a with key 48 is a frame then it would have been an obvious various in location of parts or obvious integration of parts to have combined transceiver with key 48 and the picture frame for user input. It further would have been obvious to have included this frame in the system of Richardson in order to identify the user or to blend into the environment.
